The United States Olympic Museum Earns Excellence in Construction Award

The Associated Builders and Contractors Rocky Mountain Chapter (ABCRCM) celebrated the 18th annual Excellence in Construction (EIC) Awards on Friday, October 25th, 2019 at Infinity Park Event Center in Glendale, CO.

EIC honors the most innovative and outstanding quality merit shop construction projects produced by ABC member contractors. Safety, teamwork, and cooperation between general contractors, subcontractors, and material suppliers are prerequisites for building excellence in any construction project and this event is an opportunity to celebrate the incredible work of ABC members. The Rocky Mountain Chapter's EIC Awards, modeled after ABC National's EIC program, are the first step to compete at the national level. Merit and Excellence awards are presented within two categories, Specialty Contractors and General Contractors, and are based upon the overall scores of the judges.

This year we submitted The United States Olympic Museum for the category Exteriors. Our team was challenged with building the exterior framing and sheathing of the United States Olympic Museum. The United States Olympic Museum boasts a curving, diving, and spiraling frame that was inspired by the movement of athletes. The complexity of the design prompted us to work in a design-assist collaboration with Radius Track Corporation for their extensive experience in curved, cold-formed steel framing. Radius Track Corporation modeled, fabricated the curved material, and supplied control points for the exterior framing. Once material arrived on site we proved we were up to the task.

Our team in the field reached out to Hilti to utilize a long-range robotic total station so that we could input the precise (Northern/Easting/Height) of each coordinate that allowed them to pinpoint the placement of each stud, track, and knuckle within a sixteenth of an inch. The warped frame introduced plenty of challenges that allowed us the opportunity to prove we could lift, hoist, and contort with precision much like the Olympic heroes that will be celebrated within the walls they built.

Our team earned the Excellence in Construction award, thank you for all your hard work and dedication.

That's A Wrap!

Another year, another decade has come and gone; goodbye 2019 and Hello 2020! This year we ended with an amazing food drive competition and Holiday Party. We donated 4,931 pounds of food!!!!

Our field collected 2,528 lbs while the Office gathered: 2,403 lbs. Thank you for your hard work in giving back to our communities.

Each year we pick a nonprofit organization to donate our raffle earnings to. This year we selected DBSA (Depression and Bipolar Support Alliance) of Colorado Springs. DBSA started with a mother's love of her son. Erik suffered from bipolar disorder, and when his life was cut short, his mother, Karen Fallahi, went into action.

She founded the Colorado Springs chapter of the Depression and Bipolar Support Alliance (then known as the Depressive and Manic-Depressive Association) in 1994, and 4 people attended the first meeting. Today, we sponsor 11 free self-help support groups for people living with a variety of mood disorders, and their family and friends.

Along with growth and interest in its activities comes the need for more volunteers to do the work of operating the library, producing the newsletter, and facilitating at support group meetings. Teamwork is essential in our operation - if one person is unavailable or not well, another has to be ready to take his or her place. In this manner DBSA-CS builds up its people, gives them a sense of accomplishment, and offers them chances to exercise leadership among their peers, without the fear of criticism or failure. This year we donated $5,000 to support DBSA's mission.

Special thank you to all of our vendors who donated some great prizes for our Holiday Party: Jones Heartz, Ahern Rentals, Pioneer Materials, American Gypsum, Hilti, Cemco, Ames Taping Tools, L&W Supply, Western Interior Supply.

Save the date for our 2020

HOLIDAY PARTY

Friday December 11th: 3pm-6:30pm
Douglas County Fairgrounds, in Castle Rock

Come for great food, drinks, friendly company, and terrific prizes!

More information to come.
We hope you can join us!
Must be a Spacecon Employee to attend

This year we were honored to have Kirk Liddell attend to celebrate a great year with us and also to celebrate the 50 year anniversary of Irex Corporation. Kirk, thank you for attending and sharing in celebrating a wonderful 2019.
